

Digital Health should be empowering, not overwhelming

Take the headache out of selecting the right partners for your people.

There are four key questions we often hear about digital health partners

- 1 How do I integrate and manage different partners?
- 2 How do I find and choose the right partners for my employees?
- 3 How do I drive member engagement?
- 4 How do I measure partner impact?

To date, Collective Health has led the industry in addressing the first question by making it easy for self-funded employers to set up and maintain partner programs, connect health plans to digital partners, and manage eligibility and payments.

So far we've established 130+ integrations with 80+ different partners.

Introducing the Premier Partner Program™

We're launching deep partnerships with a curated group of digital health partners with a track record of delivering impact. Our Premier Partners will have enhanced integration across our products so you can curate the right programs, engage members, and measure partner impact.
