

Here's why employers choose to Self-fund with Collective Health

Deciding to self-fund is a big decision, and choosing the right partner makes all the difference.

Collective Health was built specifically to do one thing—manage and optimize self-funded plans.

Here's why that matters.

	Traditional Plan Administrators	Collective Health
Financial Management & Payments	Swamped finance team Find ways to manage invoices and vendor payments yourself	Clear accounting done for you, with detailed reports Consolidated billing and vendor payments
Data & Reporting	A lot of new reports, but not a lot of new insights Reports are static and lagging, only giving you a sense of what happened six months ago	Real-time dashboards allow you to understand what's happening right now, and what you can do about it Clear insights across the health of your members, and your business
Plan Design	Blank slate with plan design, often mirroring your cookie-cutter fully-insured design	We can suggest evidence-based plan designs modeled to maximize member experience and financial management
Point solutions and innovative benefits	Each new program adds complexity and work	Our platform makes it easy to add and support new programs, engage the right members, and understand the impact

Collective Health replaces clunky healthcare administration with one integrated system for all your benefit needs. We give you the flexibility to design a complex, custom benefits strategy without the administrative hassle.
