

Digital Health should be empowering, not overwhelming

Take the headache out of selecting the right health partners for your people.

There are four key questions we often hear about digital health partners

- 1 How do I find and choose the right partners for my employees?
- 2 How do I integrate and manage different partners?
- 3 How do I drive member engagement?
- 4 How do I measure partner impact?

To date, Collective Health has led the industry by making it easy for self-funded employers to set up and maintain partner programs, connect health plans to digital partners, and manage eligibility and payments.

So far we've established 300+ integrations across 30+ health categories.

The Premier Partner Program™

CARRO

galileo

lyra

We've established deep integrations with a curated group of digital health partners with a track record of delivering strong results for their members, as well as driving greater member engagement, thus making the most out of the employer's investment in their member's health. Our Premier Partners have enhanced integration across our products so you can curate the right programs, engage members, and measure partner impact.

Multiply the value of your investment

Curation

Receive support identifying the right partners for your population

Engagement

Drive member engagement with personalized recommendations backed by quality data

Measurement

Measure how partners add value and impact spend

For clients and consultants

Identify the programs that benefit your employees and measure program ROI

For members

Receive Care Reminders through the My Collective™ portal to help you navigate your healthcare journey

Amplifying solutions with a proven impact

Each partner was selected based on their impact, reach, and integration capabilities. This group of partners delivers meaningful outcomes across member experience, cost management and health outcomes.

Our cohort spans areas with the highest potential to impact behavior and plan spend.

An offering only Collective Health can provide

Collective Health is the one company that is both claims administrator and curator of digital health partners. We have a holistic view of the member journey, tying together utilization, engagement and claims data, giving you a better overall picture of the plan's performance.

The bottom line

Collective Health helps you get the most out of the best programs for your people.

If you'd like to learn more, we'd love to talk.

→ hello@collectivehealth.com