

Independent by choice. Transparent by design.™

Who We Are

Collective Health is the leading independent third party administrator (TPA) that brings together plan administration, cost management, and taking great care of your people — all in one place. Conventional wisdom in health benefits says you must choose: better or safe. Collective Health allows you to have both.

Named a 2025 TIME World’s Top HealthTech Company.

Visionary Leadership

Ali Diab co-founded Collective Health in 2013 after a harrowing personal health emergency that exposed just how opaque and fragmented the healthcare system had become — even for someone who knew how to navigate it.

He saw firsthand how a lack of transparency creates confusion, unnecessary cost, and poor outcomes.

That experience became the foundation for Collective Health: a company built to bring clarity, accountability, and control back to employers, while making it easy for their people to understand, navigate, and pay for their healthcare.
